

“

We have observed how pioneering policy and practice face similar challenges across Europe; especially with regard to securing predictable funding, coordinating sustainable networks of professional cooperation or diversifying the school curriculum. We hope that the Norwegian legislators will realise that they need to work on this (also internationally) and, for example, pluralise schools without giving up the model of ‘one school for all’.

”

WESTERN NORWAY UNIVERSITY OF APPLIED SCIENCES

Norway

